

The IRU Honours Degree

The IRU (International Road Transport Union), international organization that represents the interests in the transport sector all around the world, distinguish with an Honour Degree, professional drivers with extraordinary performance in terms of driving and safety in the last 20 years.

2008

João Mata was the first Luís Simões professional driver to be distinguished with Honour Degree.

2009

From 33 distinguished Portuguese drivers, 3 were Luís Simões professional drivers.

2010

3 more Luís Simões professional drivers distinguished.

Throughout their careers, these professionals drivers have safely covered the equivalent of more than 200 times around the Earth or 10 trips to the Moon, being an example for younger co-workers, a major contribution for road safety and the improvement of the image of the profession and the sector, and of course, a matter of pride for Luís Simões.
